INVESTIGATION ARRANGED.

Professor Hollander Will Inquire Into Affairs in Santo Domingo.

Washington, March 25.-Arrangements for the investigation of the affairs of Santo Domingo were completed during the day after a conterence participated in by President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Professor J. H. Hollander, who is to make the inquiry. It was decided that Professor Hollander will sail from New York April 1 on a mail steamer for San Juan, Porto Rico. From there he will go to San Domingo on the Chattanooga, which will be at his disposal to convey him from place to place while he is pursuing the investigation. He will return to the United States in May and if his investigation is not completed by that time he will again return to the island.

Russia's chief preoccupation is said to be avoidance of having peace plans arouse the animosity of the powerful war element at home.

The receipt of an official dispatch at St. Petersburg on March 20, saying that the Japanese were approaching Vladivostok, is said to have induced the determination to seek a pacific solution. On the other hand It is insisted that Japanese proximity to Vladivostok promises to be a chief obstacle in the way of peace, as diplomats conversant with the situation say that Japan will seek to avert peace until she possesses Russia's only outlet to the Pacific ocean.

Concerning Subscriptions.

There seems to be a misapprehension on the part of some as regards the subscription rates on THE DAILY DISPATCH. The rate of $4 a year or $1 for three months, is an advance rate and placed thereon in order to save the expense of collection and avoid the loss of accounts. Some, however, seem to think that they can pay at the end of the year and are then entitled to the paper for $4. A moment's thought will show that such a course is simply putting a premium on not paying and would if permitted result in the loss to us of many accounts of nearly or quite a year each. Parties wishing the yearly rate must pay in advance or promptly on the presentation of account by the collector. tf

Senator Morgan Would Probe Dominican Affairs.

Washington, March ..- In the executive session of the senate during the day Senator Morgan continued his speech of Thursday, in which he disclosed the details of certain concessions sought in Santo Domingo by a Mr. and Mrs. Reeder, operating under the name of the Reeder syndicate. Before the doors were closed he offered a resolution calling for an investigation of Dominican affairs by the senate committee on foreign relations. Later in the session he challenged the senate to adopt the resolution. He said that if this were done the charges he made connecting William Nelson Cromwell of New York, with a movement to bring about the offering of the offices of the United States to adjust the financial affairs of the Domincan government would be proven. Senator Foraker took the floor in defense of Mr. Cromwell. He read a telegram from Mr. Cromwell, identical with a statement which Mr. Cromwell gave to the press in New York, in which Mr Cromwell denied that he had any dealings with President Morales in connection with the securing of concessions or in interesting the Dominican government in a scheme to petition the United States to take charge of the financial affairs of the Dominican government.

THE MISSOURI SENATORSHIP.

Joint Session of Legislature May End the Contest.

Jefferson City, Mo., March ...- That the joint session of the legislature during the day will have an important bearing on the deadlock over the selection of a United States senator, is confidently predicted.

Senator Dave Nelson of St. Louis has announced that he would vote for a Republican on the next joint ballot and that other Democrats would vote with him

From the fact that L. F. Paker rewill join the Republicans in an attempt to elect Mr. Parker. Representative Crossley, who is managing Former United States Senastated, when informed of Senator Nelson's announcement, that if Nelson sufficient Republicans would join the Democrats to elect Cockrell.

TEN THOUSAND MEN IDLE.

Score of Industrial Plants Closed by High Water.

Pittsburg, March 2 .- More than a score of industrial plants are crippled and at least 10,000 men are temporarily forced into idleness; costly washouts along the railways bordering the Allegheny have resulted and hundreds of stores are flooded as the result of one of the fiercest flood rampages the Allegheny has been on for years. The rampage, however, has ended.

The monetary damage cannot now be definitely estimated. Fortunately only one life has been reported lost as an incident of the flood. This was the result of a daring attempt of Stanley Hilger to cross the Ohio in a skiff. The skiff was capsized and Hilger was Philadelphia Youth Accidentally Shot Through the Heart.

Philadelphia, March 2 .- While a half dozen boys were playing "Indian" ceived thirteen votes on the last joint in the woods at Mount Airy, a suburb ballot, it is argued that the Democrats of this city, Warren Carr, sixteen years old, was shot dead with a rifle in the hands of James Hawthorn, seventeen years old. The bullet entered the boy's heart. Hawthorn ran away tor Cockrell's campaign for re-election, and has not yet been found. All the other boys who saw the shooting are held by the police as witnesses. They and his friends desert Cockrell that all declare they did not know the rifle was loaded and assert they believe Hawthorn also thought the rifle was

State Mutual Fire Insurance Company

A correspondent asks for information about the State Mutual Fire Insurance Company, with headquarters at St. Paul. Investigation shows that this comyany is officered practically by the same persons as the State Mutual Hail retary dated March 2 last. The Insurance Co., L. C. Stebbins, president; Jno. N. Knutson, secretary. It is incorporated under the lows of the State of Minnesota, and was licensed to do business on Jan. 26, 1905. Just why the word mutual is used in the title is not apparent, for as we understand it this company is not operated on a strictly mutual plan. It writes policies on mercantile as well as farm risks. The farm application blank, which must be filled in and received and fully approved by the secretary and a policy issued thereon before the company is liable for loss by fire, does not state what the premium shall be or how it can be paid. The application has a blank promissory note, the upper edge handily perforated, so as to make it easily torn from the application. It is wonderful how often these notes which are signed by farmers can be disposed of to an innocent third party. Another peculiar paragraph in the application is: "It is further agreed that if any note is given for the within insurance, and said note be not paid at its maturity, the policy shall, without notice, cease, and this company be relieved from all liability thereon." The note reads "Oct. 1st, after date." This means in plain English that a policy issued March 1, 1905, for five years, paid for in a note. would be due Oct. 1, 1905, and if not paid then the insurance would cease, but the note in the hands of an innocent third party would have to be paid by the maker or signer. In other words, the note lives though the insurer dies.-Farm, Stock and Home.

Concerning Subscriptions.

There seems to be a misapprehension on the part of some as regards the subscription rates on THE DAILY DISPATCH. The rate of $4 a year or $1 for three months, is an advance rate and placed thereon in order to save the expense of collection and avoid the loss of accounts. Some, however, seem to think that they can pay at the end of the year and are then entitled to the paper for $4. A moment's thought will show that such a course is simply putting a premium on not paying and would if permitted result in the loss to us of many accounts of nearly or quite a year each. Parties wishing the yearly rate must pay in advance or promptly on the presentation of account by the collector. tf

Rheumatism.

Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University. the discoverer of the formula of Paine's Celery Compound, always maintained that rheumatism could be traced back to diseased nerves that failed to do their work properly.

Bear this in mind while reading the letter of John C. Rowan that follows.

short time ago to find out if he still relied on

Mr. Rowan wrote us over 10 years ago telling us how much he was being helped by Paine's Celery Compound. We wrote him a

Paine's Celery Compound. "Yours of the 2d inst. is at hand, and in reply would say that I have never had any cause to change my opinion as to the good qualities of Paine's Celery Compound. As you are aware, some ten years or thereabouts ago, I was a martyr to rheumatism, and suffered intense pain with it in my knees; could not rest at night, but walked the floor with pain. "All manner of remedies were tried; some gave me temporary relief, others have had no effect whatever.

"Now, my reasons for taking Paine's Celery Compound in preference to other remedies was that on an occasion once before ! had taken two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound and was relieved so much that I did not take any more at that time, after my experience with other remedies which did me no good. Later, I was positive then that I had not given Paine's Celery Compound a fair trial to cure me absolutely of rheumatism.

"I concluded to take twelve bottles, and I did so, and I can assure you that you have a compound that is honest, and a sure destroyer of rheumatism.

"I have found it so, for up to this present date I have never felt any symptoms of rheumatism. I take it every spring, but for the blood only. "Now, we have a remarkajble case here in one of our schools, the janitor, Mr. William Garlow. He is a man between seventy and seventy-five years of age. "He had suffered very much with rheumasm, so he felt he must give up his position. I had frequently recommended Paine's Celery Compound to him, and, like myself, he had taken one or two bottles of it, but did not give it a fair trial. I informed him of my case, and said: 'Try a dozen bottles, and it will convince you that my statement is correct.' He purchased five bottles; one he kept at the school, so he could take it as directions call for. Now he is well and feeling better than he has for years, and is a strong supporter of Paine's Celery Compound. His address is, William Garlow, Oakdale avenue, or Humboldt High School.

"Others have asked if it is a fact that Paine's Celery Compound has done so much for me and keeps me so healthy. "That and the way I live have been the cause. At the time I had the rheumatism I was affected with catarrh. You can be assured I shall always be a friend of Paine's Celery Compound, for I am indebted to it-a debt I can never pay. You can refer to me and use this letter as you see fit in the cause of Paine's Celery Compound. I am, yours truly."-John C. Rowan, 137 East Winifred street, St. Paul, Minn.

When you are sick in some part of your body it is because some organ is not doing its work. That is because THE NERVES ARE NOT STRONG ENOUGH to keep that organ up to its work.

Pretty and Distinct In Style, but Have a Lonely Appearance.

Swiss houses impress one almost invariably with a sense of loneliness. Probably this may be attributed to the contrast they present to their surroundings. They are commonly dwarfed into insignificance by the gigantic scenery in which they have been placed. But near at hand they are decidedly pretty, although their architectural style is distinct from any other.

They are rarely painted and seldom ornamented or embellished, save that the boards and shingles are not infrequently cut and scalloped into odd shapes. Sometimes the front of a chalet bears the owner's or builder's name in large letters, followed by a sentiment, a benediction or a prayer.

These chalets are provided with overhanging roofs, on which flat stones have been laid to keep the fierce winds from tearing them off and not because—as an animated tailor's sign, with a monocle, once informed an old lady in my presence—the natives wished to effect a saving in nails.

Various fruits and vegetables are hung under the projecting caves for shelter, and the firewood is piled high without for future use. The ground floor is generally given up to a stable, where the cattle are housed in the winter, in delightful proximity to the fam-

That caused the Romans to flee howl-

"Here in my notebook is another account of the use of bees in war. It is an extract from an Irish manuscript in | the Bibliotheque Royale at Brussels, and it tells how the Danes and Norwegians attacked Chester and were repulsed, thanks to the use of bees by the Saxons and their allies in the town. "'The Norwegians,'" read the beekeper, "'sheltered by hurdles, tried to pierce the walls. Then what the Saxons and the Gaedhil did was to throw down large rocks, by which they broke down the hurdles over their heads. to place large posts under the hurdles. What the Saxons did next was to put all the beer and water of the town into the caldrons of the town, to boil them and spill them down upon those who were under the hurdles, so that their skins were peeled off. The remedy which the Lochlans applied to this was to place hides on the outside of the hurdles. What the Saxons did next was to throw down all the beehives in the town upon the besiegers, which prevented them from moving their hands or legs from the number of bees which stung them. They afterward deserted and left the city." -- Chicago Chronicle.

The Squirrel.

A squirrel's natural term of life is from fifteen to twenty years, and in localities where they are little disturbed they multiply with extreme rapidity. Indeed, in the early history of the United States they were so numerous in certain localities as to be almost a plague, and large sums were annually paid in bounty for the scalps. In the west large hunts were organized by the early settlers in order to try to reduce their numbers, as now it is found necessary to do to prevent the jack rabbits from becoming a scourge to the farmers. On these hunts thousands of squirrels wer killed, and yet from all accounts their numbers were not greatly reduced.

A Quick Witted Waiter.

A western congressman says that while he and certain friends were studying the bill of fare in a hotel on the New Jersey coast a mosquito alighted on the card. It instantly lost its life by a quick blow from the man holding the card, its little carcass remaining on the bill. With a smile the man pointed to the remains and said to the waiter: "Do you serve these on toast here?"

"They're on the bill, sir!" was the witty retort of the waiter.

.In YESTRDAY's issue was published a communication from Mr. Ambrose Tighe protesting against what he characterizes as "the hysterical and sensational article about my attitude towards Mr. Frater's bill." The article in question was merely a mild report of what transpired at the council meeting when Mr. Tighe's proposed changes to Mr. Frater's bill were being considered, and certainly was not nearly as "hysterical and sensational" as Mr. Tighe's protest. There is not the slightest disposition on the part of THE DISPATCH to in any way injure Mr. Tighe or his interests, or to treat matters of interest to Hedwall, who is working there. the water company in a "hysterical or sensational manner," but to give him fair and courteous treatment, and it fails to see wherein the article mentioned did otherwise. # The Raincoat of Today.

Once it was an oilskin, shapeless and bulky, worn by seafarers and men whose vocations brought them in daily contact with the elements. Later on it was a sheet of rubber, heavy, stiff and unwieldy, bearing iron riveted buttons and little better than a horse blanket.

Today it is a stylish, soft, shapely garment as graceful as any article in a man's wardrobe and the most useful garment he can possess. It has taste, refinement and character-it is porous and admits the air, yet nothing short of pressure can force the dampness through

HOMES OF THE SWISS.

Pretty and Distinct In Style, but Have a Lonely Appearance.

Swiss houses impress one almost invariably with a sense of loneliness. Probably this may be attributed to the contrast they present to their surroundings. They are commonly dwarfed into insignificance by the gigantic scenery in which they have been placed. But near at hand they are decidedly pretty, although their architectural style is distinct from any other.

They are rarely painted and seldom ornamented or embellished, save that the boards and shingles are not infrequently cut and scalloped into odd shapes. Sometimes the front of a chalet bears the owner's or builder's name in large letters, followed by a sentiment, a benediction or a prayer.

These chalets are provided with overhanging roofs, on which flat stones have been laid to keep the fierce winds from tearing them off and not because—as an animated tailor's sign, with a monocle, once informed an old lady in my presence—the natives wished to effect a saving in nails.

Various fruits and vegetables are hung under the projecting caves for shelter, and the firewood is piled high without for future use. The ground floor is generally given up to a stable, where the cattle are housed in the winter, in delightful proximity to the family overhead.

The household treasures are contained in the living room, or gute stube. Here, too, you will find the large porcelain stove that is the center of the family gatherings on the long winter evenings. In the kitchen, of course, the furniture is of the plainest description, usually consisting of a rude loom, a huge fireplace, a table and a few chairs.-Pilgrim.

BEES IN WAR.

Two Instances In Which the Insects Were Used as Weapons.

The beekeeper, holding a number of bees in his hand, said as he led the way through the apiary: "Bees in the past were used as weapons of war. In the siege of Themiscrya, for instance, they played a very important part. # WOULD REPUDIATE A LAND CONTRACT F. C. Butts, of This City Has Been Ap-

Suit Grows Out of a Contract Given to Duluth Parties for an Option

INCLUDING SOME ORE LAND

The Case is Entitled Frank A. Edson vs Peter Hedlund and Mrs. Mary Hedlund

A suit has been commenced in the op an option on some land said to contain some valuable ore deposits east of litigation is anticipated before the case is finally adjudicated.

The case is entitled Frank A. Edson s Peter Hedlund and his wife Mary Hedlund and the land involved is described as lot 1, section 17 and and the of section 18, township 44, range 29.

The complaint sets forth the fact that the defendants bought this land under a contract some years ago and that it is nearly all paid for. The claim s made by the plaintiff that on Sept. 24, 1904, the defendants for a consideration agreed to execute and deliver to the plaintiff a written contract and option, wherein and whereby they granted the plaintiff the option and privilege for 60 days to purchase or sell for the consideration expressed in the contract, $2100, on the following conditions: One-third of the purchase price to be paid on the delivery of the deed, the balance to be paid according to terms of a promissory note to be executed by the plaintiff, one-half in one year and the balance in two years. It is claimed that within the period of the said sixty days the plaintiff elected to close the option on the land and gave the defendant due notice of his intention and demanded an abstract of said defendants' title to the land. The defendants, it is alleged, refused this and they are claimed to have undertaken to repudiate the option

Great Surprise.

Last evening the members of the high school junior class gave a pleasant surprise for Miss Edith Bowe, who leaves Monday for Minneapolis where she will make her future home. She was lured to the home of Miss Nettie Angel where the members of the class had assembled, and a complete surprise was given her. The rooms were tastefully decorated in the class colors, pink and green. The first part of the evening was spent in various games, and then the company repaired to the dining room where refreshments were served under pleasant circumstances. During the course of the repast each person was required to compose an original poem concerning Cuyuna range. Edson, the plaintiff in Miss Bowe. On reading the various this suit, is a resident of Duluth and is rhymes it was found that several of the a brother of Attorney Edson, of that juniors were quite poetically endowed. Just at this time Prof. Hanft arrived and was welcomed cordially. At the close of the refreshments several extemporaneous speeches were made by Prof. Santee, Irving Badeaux and others. Just before breaking up Miss Edith Knowles, on behalf of the class, presented Miss Bowe with a beautiful souvenir spoon bearing the inscription, "Classmates '05." The best wishes of all her classmates and friends go with Miss Bowe to her new home.

HE HATED MUSEUMS.

Thoreau Catalogued Them as the Catacombs of Nature.

I hate museums. There is nothing so weighs upon my spirits. They are the catacombs of nature. One green bud of spring, one willow catkin, one faint thrill from a migrating sparrow, would set the world on its legs again. The life that is in a single green weed is of more worth than all this death. They are dead nature collected by dead men. I know not whether I muse most at the bodies stuffed with cotton and sawdust or those stuffed with bowels and flashy fiber outside the cases.

Where is the proper herbarium, the true cabinet of shells and museum of skeletons, but in the meadow where the flower bloomed, by the seaside where the tide cast up the fish, and on the hills and in the valleys where the beast laid down its life and the skeleton of the traveler reposes on the grass? What right have mortals to parade these things on their legs again, with their wires, and, when heaven has decreed that they shall return to dust again, to return them to sawdust? Would you have a dried specimen of a world or a pickled one?

Embalming is a sin against heaven and earth-against heaven, who has recalled the soul and set free the servile elements, and against the earth, which is thus robbed of her dust. I have had my right perceiving senses so disturbed in these haunts as to mistake a veritable living man for a stuffed specimen and surveyed him with dumb wonder as the strangest of the whole collection, for the strangest is that which, being in many particulars most like, is in some essential particular most unlike.-Thoreau's Journal in Atlantic.

Robert Burns' Muse.

Robert Burns, though he had the choice of such works as the Spectator, "Locke on the Human Understanding" and Pope, together with odd plays of Shakespeare, which formed the staple reading of his home, nevertheless owed most to an old collection of songs. "This," he says, "was my vade mecum! I pored over them during my rest or walking to labor, song by song, verse as it is!"-All the Year Round.

FELTER'S VACATION.

The Story of a Visit to Germany With High Honors.

Once upon a time the senate restaurant at Washington was managed by a German-American named Felter, who was a renowned caterer to senatorial appetites and of course was popular. In one of the nine months' congressional vacations Felter concluded to visit his old home in Germany, so he applied to Jim Christy, deputy sergeant at arms, for ocean transportation, which in due time was produced, and Felter started in high glee. He did not know how Christy procured the passes,

When he embarked the captain of the German line received him cordially, but with great dignity assigned him to one of the best staterooms and adorned his cabin with flowers. He age might be treated.

Felter the cook could not understand, The sheriff of Ramsey county wired but he took all that was offered and made the best of the situation. When the vessel finally reached her destination and the passengers were landed the captain of the ship introduced Felter to the mayor, who awaited his coming and insisted that he make his home in the mayor's residence during his visit. His astonishment increased, but he accepted all of these attentions without asking any questions.

The following day he was banqueted as the guest of the city and was called upon for a speech. To the best of his ability he complied and explained the complex workings of the great republic of which he was a naturalized part, and every utterance was applauded. But Felter was unhappy, anxious to get away and find some old friends who might explain the reason for all this adulation. When the banquet was over an old schoolmate managed to get hold of his hand and begged him to go to his house for the night. This Felter gladly did, although the mayor gave reluctant permission, indicating that it was the next thing to discourteous for Felter to abandon the mayor's home while he was the guest of the city.

As soon as they were alone the friend inquired in German, "Felter, what sort of a game is this you have come over here to play on the folks of the father-

"I don't understand the game myself, and I wish that you could explain it to me. I am the keeper of the restaurant of the senate and am earning a good living at it—in fact, saving money. #### The Tentative Programme.

The tentative programme of the senate continues to be adjournment without date on Saturday, without permitting the Dominican treaty to come to a vote. It is probable that it will be recommitted.

Among the senate leaders during the day a new plan was advanced in regard to Santo Domingo, but it deals with the next session of congress. It has been suggested that if the whole matter is allowed to go over, a joint resolution must be passed by congress to authorize the president to do the very things that are proposed by the treaty. If this course were pursued a majority vote is all that would be required to place the entire matter in the hands of the president. It is understood the plan found favor when it was suggested at the White House by senators who called there during the day. Some doubt was expressed as to the constitutionality of dealing with this question except by treaty, but the case of the annexation of Hawaii, which was done by joint resolution, was used as a precedent and Republican leaders believe it to be feasible.

Adjournment of the session cannot be had until Saturday because of the situation for nominations of judges in Illinois, which cannot be determined before that time.

WITH DEADLY EFFECT

DENVER TEAMSTER USES RIFLE ON SUPPOSED ENEMIES AND ON POLICE OFFICERS.

KILLS TWO. WOUNDS THREE

DESPERATE MAN KILLED AFTER FIERCE FIGHT WITH THE POLICE AND DEPUTIES.

Denver, March J .- Three persons dead, one missing, four others in a critical condition and one house in ashes sums up briefly the result of a fierce combat during the day in which George Schistler, a teamster, played the leading part. Maddened because of his defeat in a law suit, which Kent Fill, the man whom he pronounced his bitterest enemy, had been victorious and swearing vengeance against him and his family, Schistler armed himself with a rifle and started out to do murder. As a result Mr. and Mrs. Fill and George Schistler are dead, a child of the Fills is missing (believed to have been burned to death), Dr. Frank Dulin, police surgeon, Captain William Bohanna, acting chief of police, and Mike Kelly, policeman, are seriously wounded; and the wife of Schistler is prostrated over the affair and may die from the shock.

Schistler had brooded over his troubles with the Fill family, who were immediate neighbors, and announced during the day that he would even up matters. Taking a rifle of improved pattern, and buckling on a belt of smokeless cartridges, he started for the Fill home. Fill saw Schistler approaching and heard his muffled threats. He tried to avoid him by entering the house, but Schistler sent a bullet into his brain with the accuracy of a marks man. Fill fell dead. Mrs. Fill rushed to her husband's side and received a bullet from Schistler's rifle, fired with unerring aim. She too fell dead, alongside the lifeless body of her husband. Not content with the fullness of his vengeance, Schistler then set fire to the Fill home, which was destroved.

A son of the Fills is missing and is believed to have perished in the flames. Barricaded Himself in His Home.

Satisfying himself that the flames would perform their mission, Schistler returned to his own home and barricaded himself inside. In the meantime neighbors appeared on the scene, but quickly retreated when bullets from Schistler's rifle began falling near them. A telephone message was sent to police headquarters and an ambulance with Police Surgeon Dulin, Captain Bohanna and three officers hurried to the scene.

Before the officers could leave the ambulance a rain of bullets fell about them. Dulin and Bohanna fell to the floor of the ambulance wounded. The driver stopped his horses when another shot from Schistler dropped one of the animals to the ground. With the assistance of spectators the wounded men were removed from the scene. A call for reinforcements brought all the available men from police headquarters and the sheriff's office. A consultation was held to formulate a plan to capture Schistler. Firing squads were stationed in nearby houses and a large force was placed in a portable fort made of baled hay piled up on a haywagon. During the preliminary arrangements Schistler kept up a continuous fire in all directions. This was returned by the officers and hundreds of shots were exchanged. Kelly was wounded. Finally Schistler ceased firing and the haywagon fort was moved cautiously toward the house. When the attacking force reached the front draw the fire of Schistler. None came and with a rush the officers charged the house and battered down the door. They found Schistler lying upon a bed bleeding from several wounds. He died soon afterwards. It is not known weapons of the pursuing party or committed suicide.

Mrs. Schistler was away from home at the time and when she learned of the affair fell prostrate. It is thought she will die from the shock.

SPRING TRADE GATHERS FORCE. Confidence in the Future Affects All Sections of the Country.

New York, March ... Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says spring | trade and outdoor activities gather force as the month advances. Better weather, smaller stocks and confidence in the future induce a wider distribution in practically all sections except the South, where considerable irregularity appears, some markets reporting expansion, while others advise of contraction compared with a year ago. Dry goods, clothing, groceries, shoes, hardware, farm implements, lumber and building material show relatively most activity. All reports indicate great activity in railway circles. Merchandise shipments, high class freight and very large grain tonnage is heavy for this season, and complaints of car shortage still come. Gross receipts for Janaury gained 6 per cent, while net increased 2 per cent. Collections still lag, but money has turned firmer. A feature of the spring outlook is the confidence in a very large amount of building being done in nearly all parts of the country. This is reflected in strong prices for lumber, high brick prices and large demand for builders' hardware. The Northwestern cut of white pine, hemlock and hardwood is 25 per cent less than a year ago. The Central West, Northwest and South send the best reports, but there is expansion noted at leading Eastern markets and even cotton goods are being taken more freely at the East.

EDISON'S TRIUMPH.

An Incident In the Great Inventor's

Start In Life. Dr. Norvin Green, for many years president of the Western Union Telegraph company, once said that but for the dullness of himself and his assistants Thomas A. Edison might never have obtained the confidence and support of the great corporation. Edison had been trying for months to induce the officials to take up some of his inventions until they began to regard him as a bore.

He went to the main office one day and was greeted by Dr. Norvin Green and the other officials with sneering smiles. Dr. Green said: "Mr. Edison, we are unable to get into communication with Albany, and a large amount of important business is in peril. I suppose that since you know more about telegraphy than all of the rest of us combined you can locate the dif-

Whether Edison noticed the sneering tone or not, he quietly answered, "I can locate it inside of two or three hours, sir."

Dr. Green and the others laughed outright, one of them saying, "Edison, you have now fully demonstrated that you are a crank."

Edison never smiled or addressed a word to the speaker, but looked at Dr. Green and said, "If I locate this difficulty in two or three hours, will you take up my inventions and give them honest consideration?"

"Yes, I will," said Dr. Green, "and I will do it if you succeed in two days.' It was a very simple thing, and yet Edison was the only one who had the comprehensive mind to think of it instantly. He did not tell them for many years afterward how he accomplished the feat, but he did it inside of one

Edison went to the main offices, where he was known as an expert operator, and called up Pittsburg. He asked for the best operator there, naming him, and then told the Pittsburg man to call up the best man at Albany and direct him to telegraph down the line toward New York as far as he as possible. Inside of an hour Edison had this telegram:

"I can telegraph all right down to within two miles of Poughkeepsie, and there is trouble with the wire there."

Edison went back to the office of the president and gravely announced that if a train should be sent to Poughkeepsie with materials for the work they would find a break in the line just two serand, the French ambassador, will miles on the other side of Poughkeepsie and could repair it that afternoon. # WITH DEADLY EFFECT

KILLS TWO. WOUNDS THREE

DESPERATE MAN KILLED AFTER FIERCE FIGHT WITH THE POLICE AND DEPUTIES.

Denver, March J .- Three persons dead, one missing, four others in a critical condition and one house in ashes sums up briefly the result of a flerce combat during the day in which George Schistler, a teamster, played the leading part. Maddened because of his defeat in a law suit, which Kent Fill, the man whom he pronounced his bitterest enemy, had been victorious and swearing vengeance against him and his family, Schistler armed himself with a rifle and started out to do murder. As a result Mr. and Mrs. Fill and George Schistler are dead, a child of the Fills is missing (believed to have been burned to death), Dr. Frank Dulin, police surgeon, Captain William Bohanna, acting chief of police, and Mike Kelly, policeman, are seriously wounded; and the wife of Schistler is prostrated over the affair and may die from the shock.

Schistler had brooded over his troubles with the Fill family, who were immediate neighbors, and announced during the day that he would even up matters. Taking a rifle of improved pattern, and buckling on a belt of smokeless cartridges, he started for the Fill home. Fill saw Schistler approaching and heard his muffled threats. He tried to avoid him by entering the house, but Schistler sent a bullet into his brain with the accuracy of a marksman. Fill fell dead. Mrs. Fill rushed to her husband's side and received a bullet from Schistler's rifle, fired with unerring aim. She too fell dead, alongside the lifeless body of her husband. Not content with the fullness of his vengeance, Schistler then set fire to the Fill home, which was destroyed.

A son of the Fills is missing and is believed to have perished in the flames. Barricaded Himself in His Home.

Satisfying himself that the flames would perform their mission, Schistler returned to his own home and barricaded himself inside. In the meantime neighbors appeared on the scene, but quickly retreated when bullets from Schistler's rifle began falling near them. A telephone message was ent to police headquarters and an ambulance with Police Surgeon Dulin, Captain Bohanna and three officers hurried to the scene.

Before the officers could leave the ambulance a rain of bullets fell about them. Dulin and Bohanna fell to the floor of the ambulance wounded. The driver stopped his horses when another shot from Schistler dropped one of the animals to the ground. With the assistance of spectators the wounded men were removed from the scene. A call for reinforcements brought all the available men from police headquarters and the sheriff's office. A consultation was held to formulate a plan to capture Schistler. Firing squads were stationed in nearby houses and a large force was placed in a portable fort made of baled hay piled up on a haywagon. During the preliminary arrangements Schistler kept up a continuous fire in all directions. This was returned by the officers and hundreds of shots were exchanged. Kelly was wounded. Finally Schistler ceased firing and the haywagon fort was moved cautiously toward the house. When the attacking force reached the front gate without a shot being fired, one of the officers stepped out into view to draw the fire of Schistler. None came and with a rush the officers charged the house and battered down the door. They found Schistler lying upon a bed bleeding from several wounds. He died soon afterwards. It is not known weapons of the pursuing party or committed suicide.

Mrs. Schistler was away from home at the time and when she learned of the affair fell prostrate. It is thought she will die from the shock.

SPRING TRADE GATHERS FORCE.

Confidence in the Future Affects All Sections of the Country.

New York, March ... Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says spring trade and outdoor activities gather force as the month advances. Better weather, smaller stocks and confidence in the future induce a wider distribution in practically all sections except the South, where considerable irregularity appears, some markets reporting expansion, while others advise of contraction compared with a year ago. Dry goods, clothing, groceries, shoes, hardware, farm implements, lumber and building material show relatively most activity. All reports indicate great activity in railway circles. Merchandise shipments, high class freight and very large grain tonnage is heavy for this season, and complaints of car shortage still come. Gross receipts for Janaury gained 6 per cent, while net increased 2 per cent. Collections still lag, but money has turned firmer. A feature of the spring outlook is the confidence in a very large amount of building being done in nearly all parts of the country. This is reflected in strong prices for lumber, high brick prices and large demand for builders' hardware. The Northwestern cut of white pine, hemlock and hardwood is 25 per cent less than a year ago. The Central West, Northwest and South send the best reports, but there is expansion noted at leading Eastern markets and even cotton goods are being taken more freely at the East.

INFORMS THE UNITED STATES.

France Notifies America of Action of Venezuela.

Washington, March ...-France has officially informed the United States of the action of the Venezuelan government against the French cable company which she regards as high handed and unwarranted. While insisting that diplomatic means will be exhausted in the effort to relieve the situation, it is declared that President Castro is rapidly exhausting France's patience and thereby forcing France toward the limit of diplomacy. France has invited the attention of the American government to the Venezuelan situation, because of its interests in Panama affairs and in order that it may ascertain the probable course of action this government will take against Venezuela. It is the wish of the French government to act along parallel lines as far as practicable.

It is probable that upon the president's return from New York, M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, will miles on the other side of Poughkeepoutline to him the position in which the French government finds itself on account of President Castro's action, and discuss the whole situation with the president.

EDISON'S TRIUMPH.

An Incident In the Great Inventor's Start In Life.

Dr. Norvin Green, for many years president of the Western Union Telegraph company, once said that but for the dullness of himself and his assistants Thomas A. Edison might never have obtained the confidence and support of the great corporation. Edison had been trying for months to induce the officials to take up some of his inventions until they began to regard him as a bore.

He went to the main office one day and was greeted by Dr. Norvin Green and the other officials with sneering smiles. Dr. Green said: "Mr. Edison, we are unable to get into communication with Albany, and a large amount of important business is in peril. I suppose that since you know more about telegraphy than all of the rest of us combined you can locate the difficulty."

Whether Edison noticed the sneering tone or not, he quietly answered, "I can locate it inside of two or three hours, sir."

Dr. Green and the others laughed outright, one of them saying, "Edison, you have now fully demonstrated that you are a crank."

Edison never smiled or addressed a word to the speaker, but looked at Dr. Green and said, "If I locate this difficulty in two or three hours, will you take up my inventions and give them honest consideration?"

"Yes, I will," said Dr. Green, "and I will do it if you succeed in two days." It was a very simple thing, and yet Edison was the only one who had the comprehensive mind to think of it instantly. He did not tell them for many years afterward how he accomplished the feat, but he did it inside of one

Edison went to the main offices, where he was known as an expert operator, and called up Pittsburg. He asked for the best operator there, naming him, and then told the Pittsburg man to call up the best man at Albany and direct him to telegraph down the line toward New York as far as he could and report back to Edison as soon as possible. Inside of an hour Edison had this telegram:

Edison went back to the office of the president and gravely announced that if a train should be sent to Poughkeepsie with materials for the work they would find a break in the line just two sie and could repair it that afternoon. They begged him to tell how he had found it out, and he replied: "By knowing more about telegraphing than all of you put together, as Dr. Green has said."

They located the break, repaired it, and Dr. Green took up Edison's inventions, and that was Edison's great start in life.—Youth's Companion.

MRS. CHADWICK ON THE STAND IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT AT CLEVELAND.

BUT WOMAN FINANCIER GIVES MAIN FACTS CONCERNING TRANSACTIONS.

Mrs. Chadwick not able to give as many details of hearing is continued next Thursday.

Mrs. Chadwick testified that the total indebtedness would not exceed various persons she had received only $517,000, leaving $268,000 for commissions to the money lenders. She said $200,000. The names of these institutions she was willing to give to Mr. Loeser, trustee for the creditors, privately.

Mrs. Chadwick walked from the county jail to the bankruptcy court one block. This is the first time Mrs Chadwick has appeared outdoors except in a carriage since her arrest. She looked well and appeared cheerful. She expressed her willingness to tell all she knew of her financial affairs. Some of the questions that were put to her because she did not care to give a reply from memory. The examination disclosed additional assets of $200,000. Of this amount $56,000 is due from Charles Stewart of Cleveland and $150,000 worth of jewelry held by Wolfe Bros. of Belgium. Mrs. Chadwick stated there are other assets consisting of jewelry and valuable assets held by various persons for her.

The examination was conducted in the presence of Mrs. Chadwick's four attorneys who at times interposed an objection to the questions of Mr. sman, and with whom Mrs. Chad wick frequently consulted before she replied to some of the attorney's questions.

Regarding the attempt of Herbert B. Newton of Brookline, Mass., to re-Chadwick said she was not indebted to Mr. Newton for that amount.

She said Mr. Newton held her paper for that sum, but that she received only $78,000 from him. The difference between $78,000 and $190,-800, she said, represented the commission.

Mrs. Chadwick said Dr. Chadwick's brother in Minnesota did not hold any property belonging to her. She admitted that her husband owed his brother in Minnesota $10,000 or $15,-000, and that she was on the paper. The examination was postponed un-

MRS. CHADWICK ON THE STAND IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT AT CLEVELAND.

UNABLE TO FURNISH DETAILS

BUT WOMAN FINANCIER GIVES MAIN FACTS CONCERNING TRANSACTIONS.

Cleveland, March 25 .- In bankruptcy court here during the day Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick detailed some of her financial transactions in the course of an examination by Louis J. Grossman, acting for Trustee Nathan Loeser.

Mrs. Chadwick said that she was not able to give as many details of these transactions as she would like to because of the absence of papers which were held in a number of cities. She had sent for the papers and expected to have them when the hearing is continued next Thursday.

Mrs. Chadwick testified that the total indebtedness would not exceed $750,000. Of this sum borrowed from various persons she had received only $517,000, leaving $268,000 for commissions to the money lenders. She said she owed certain banks in Cleveland $200,000. The names of these institutions she was willing to give to Mr. Loeser, trustee for the creditors, privately.

Mrs. Chadwick walked from the county jail to the bankruptcy court in the afternoon, a distance of about one block. This is the first time Mrs. Chadwick has appeared outdoors except in a carriage since her arrest. She looked well and appeared cheerful. She expressed her willingness to tell all she knew of her financial affairs. Some of the questions that were put to her because she did not care to give a reply from memory. The examination disclosed additional assets of $200,000. Of this amount $56,000 is due from Charles Stewart of Cleveland and $150,000 worth of jewelry held by Wolfe Bros. of Belgium. Mrs. Chadwick stated there are other assets consisting of jewelry and valuable assets held by various persons for her.

The examination was conducted in the presence of Mrs. Chadwick's four attorneys who at times interposed an objection to the questions of Mr. Grossman, and with whom Mrs. Chadwick frequently consulted before she replied to some of the attorney's questions.

Regarding the attempt of Herbert B. Newton of Brookline, Mass., to recover $190,800 loaned by him, Mrs. Chadwick said she was not indebted to Mr. Newton for that amount.

She said Mr. Newton held her paper for that sum, but that she received only $78,000 from him. The difference between $78,000 and $190, 800, she said, represented the commission.

Mrs. Chadwick said Dr. Chadwick's brother in Minnesota did not hold any property belonging to her. She admitted that her husband owed his brother in Minnesota $10,000 or $15,-000, and that she was on the paper.

The examination was postponed until Thursday.

New York, March 25 .- A squad of extra police was summoned from a station in Brooklyn during the day to rescue a policeman and the motorman of a surface car from an angry mob of 2,000 persons who were trying to punish the motorman for the death of a little boy. The child, Frederick von Gilder, aged four years, ran in front of the car as it was passing through Park avenue and was struck and instantly killed. Several women cident. Hardly had the motorman, James McAuley, left the platform of his car when several men seized him. Cries of "lynch him," went up immediately. The conductor took refuge in his car and locked both doors. Mc-Auley struggled back to the car and reached a switch iron with which he knocked down several of his assailants. A policeman came to his rescue, but the mob attacked him also and the two men fought side by side, the policeman using his club and Mc-Auley the switch iron. When the police arrived they had to beat their way through the crowd to reach the two men. 'The body of the boy was then removed from under the car. When his mother, Mrs. Robert von Gilder, saw the body, she fainted and as she started down stairs fell headlong, suffering serious injuries.

TRADE HOLDS ITS VOLUME.

Unfavorable Conditions in Some Sections Have Little Effect. New York, March 25.-Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says while reflecting irregularities due to rainy weather at the East and South, high water in Central Western rivers and poor condition of country roads generally, the volume of distributive trade and the movement of industry hold the increase recorded last week. From the South, in fact, the tenor of advices is even better. Retail trade at the large cities is livening up as spring advances. Crop reports, especially from winter wheat, are increasingly favorable, notably in the Southwest. Railway earnings reflect a heavy grain movement, a large movement of iron and allied products and merchandise shipments 9 per cent in excess of the first week in March. Money has hardened and col lections lag. Lumber, hardware, an active building season and hides on general orders. and leather are active and firmer at leading Western centers. Farm ma-should be abolished. The railroads chinery implements dealers report claimed they were losing money on business active in the Northwest.
